A PLAYERS GUIDE TO THE LAWS OF CRICKET

After many years of deliberation the MCC has rewritten the Laws of Cricket. The 1980 Code has now been issued which it is hoped will make the Laws simpler yet more precise. This version of the Laws has been written with the local league player in mind. Many items that relate to the First Class game, and Umpires, have been omitted. Each law has been individually summarized and appears in the same order as the 1980 Code. It is important that the Captains know their Laws; there are some sixty references made to him in the Laws, and it is his responsibility (law 42) to ensure that play is within the SPIRIT as well as the LAW of the game.

March 1980

J. Trevor Marsden

LAW 1 THE PLAYERS A match is played between two sides, each of eleven players, one to be captain, and a deputy shall act when he is not available. Before the toss the Captain shall nominate his players, who then cannot be changed without the opposing Captain's consent.

LAW 2 SUBSTITUTES AND RUNNERS. BATSMAN OR FIELDSMAN LEAVING THE FIELD. BATSMAN RETIRING. BATSMAN COMMENCING INNINGS A substitute shall be allowed by right, to field or run for any player injured or incapacitated after nomination. The opposing Captain's consent is required for any other reason. A Substitute may field anywhere, but the opposition may object to him becoming wicket keeper. The Substitute cannot bat or bowl, but any player may bat, bowl or field even if a substitute has acted for him.

A runner, padded and gloved as the batsman, may run for a batsman incapacitated after the nomination and where possible should have previously batted himself. An injured batsman is out if his runner Handles Ball, Obstructs Field or is Run Out, and as the striker the injured batsman can himself be Run Out or Stumped. If the injured batsman brings himself into the game and interferes with play he suffers any penalties thereby. No runs are scored when injured batsman is Run Out (only at Wicket-keeper's end). A batsman may retire his innings at any time if due to illness, etc. He can resume at the fall of a wicket, or when another batsman retires. If the batsman retires other than through being incapacitated he needs the opposing Captain's permission to resume his innings. A batsman's innings commences once he has stepped onto the field of play. Before leaving the field the batsman must notify the Bowling end Umpire.

No fieldsmen should leave the field, or return to it, without the permission of the Bowling end Umpire, likewise a substitute coming on after a break in play. If a fielder returns to play after being off more than 15 minutes playing time he may not bowl until he has been back on field as long as he was off.

LAW 3 THE UMPIRES Once appointed the Umpires cannot be changed without the consent of both Captains. Before the toss the umpires and captains shall agree on any Special Regulations, League Rules, Local Conditions and boundaries which affect the game.

The umpires are the sole judges of fair and unfair play. They are the sole judges as to the fitness of the ground, weather and light for play but before deciding to stop, start or re-commence play they shall establish the wishes of both Captains. If the umpires consider the light is too bad for play and the batsmen wish to continue, a later appeal for light shall not be upheld unless conditions deteriorate.

Umpires shall stand where they can best see play even if requested to stand elsewhere by the bowler. All disputes shall be determined by the umpires and should they disagree the actual state of things shall continue.

The umpires are responsible for the correctness of scores throughout and at the end of the innings.

LAW 4 THE SCORERS All runs scored shall be recorded by two scorers who should check frequently the scores agree, and they shall accept and immediately acknowledge all signals given by the umpires. Scorers are expected to consult with the Umpires to clarify any doubts they may have and must accept any instructions, even if they do not agree with them.

LAW 5 THE BALL Before the toss Umpires and Captains shall approve all balls to be used. The ball, when new or to be used, shall weigh between 5½ and 5¾ oz., and measure between 8¾" and 9" in circumference. Should a ball become lost or unfit for play the umpires are to replace it with one of similar wear.

keeper is in front of stumps during delivery, if more than one fielder stands on, or any part of his person is on the pitch, the batsman is out.

If the bowler, before delivering the ball, attempts to run, the batsman is out.

A no ball can be called for the bowling of a "b" if the bowler touches the ground with his leg while completing the bowling.

A penalty of one run is scored if no further runs are scored after a no ball.

The striker can be out off a no ball if he hits the ball or obstructing field. If a batsman is out off a no ball, the batsman is out.

A no ball does not count in the over.

LAW 25 WIDE BALL A ball passing so high or so wide that the batsman cannot reach it from his normal stance is a "Wide Ball". If the batsman reaches for the ball and in doing so brings it within reach.

All runs which result from a wide ball, which result one penalty run shall be added to the score.

Should the striker hit a ball called wide, the batsman is allowed to have one strike only at the ball.

If a delivered ball stops before reaching the batsman, the batsman is allowed to have one strike only at the ball.

When no attempt to play at or evade the ball has been completed, or the batsmen are not at the wicket, the batsmen return to their original positions.

LAW 26 BYE AND LEG BYE From a fair ball or his bat, any runs scored are byes. If the striker hits the ball with his hand (not a hand hole) and the ball hits his person (not a hand hole) the batsman is out.

LAW 27 APPEALS A batsman cannot be out unless he is out by one of the following methods:

If an umpire turns down an appeal the other umpire may appeal.

If the umpires have any doubt about the decision, they may appeal.

The umpire's decision is final, but he can be overruled by the other umpire.

The fielding Captain can withdraw an appeal if he is not satisfied with the decision.

LAW 28 THE WICKET IS DOWN The wicket is down if the ball, the striker's bat or the batsman's hand or arm holding the bat, touches the stumps.

If the batsman is out of his ground, the wicket is down if the ball touches the stumps.

If the batsman is out of his ground, the wicket is down if the ball touches the stumps.

If the batsman is out of his ground, the wicket is down if the ball touches the stumps.

LAW 6 THE BAT Shall not be longer than 38", the blade made of wood and not more than 4½" wide. If it is covered, or bound, the binding may not be more than ½" thick. There are no limitations on weight or thickness.

LAW 7 THE PITCH This is the area between the bowling creases (22 yds. long) and 5' either side of the centre of the stumps (10ft wide). The groundsmen are responsible for the selection and preparation of a pitch before the toss, and the umpires are responsible after the toss.

LAW 8 THE WICKETS Two sets of wickets each 9" wide, 28" high consisting of 3 wooden stumps of equal width sufficiently wide to prevent a ball passing through are set opposite and parallel 22 yds. from centre to centre. Two wooden balls 4½" long and when placed on top of wickets do not project more than ½" above.

LAW 9 THE CREASES The bowling crease is marked in line with the stumps 8' 8" long, with the stumps in the centre.

The back edge of the popping crease is marked 4' in front of the centre of the stumps and parallel to them and extends a minimum of 6' either side of the stumps' centre, but is deemed of unlimited length.

The inside edge of the return crease is marked at each end of and at right angles to the bowling crease. It extends forwards to the popping crease and marked a minimum of 4' behind and deemed unlimited in length.

LAW 10 MAINTENANCE OF PITCH Pitch may be swept and then rolled for 7 minutes between innings, but may not be rolled after toss unless start delayed. The groundsmen's pre-match preparation is sufficient. No watering during match. Creases should be re-marked whenever possible. Either batsman may beat the pitch with his bat, and all players may secure their foot holds with sawdust, providing it is not used unfairly.

LAW 11 COVERING THE PITCH The pitch may be covered completely until a match is due to start, but once started, unless by Special Regulations, only the bowler's run ups and no more than 4' in front of popping crease may be covered. But if weather is fine the covers should be removed as early as possible.

LAW 12 THE INNINGS The Captains (or their deputies) to toss on the field of play at least 15 minutes before start of play, and the winner must notify the opposing captain of his choice to bat or bowl at least 10 minutes before the start, and cannot then change his mind.

The duration of the match may be governed by League Rules.

LAW 13 FOLLOW ON For League Cricket see League Rules.

LAW 14 DECLARATIONS A Captain may declare his innings closed at any time, even if by doing so he loses the match.

LAW 15 START OF PLAY At the start, or restart of play, the Bowling end umpire calls "Play", no practice run ups are allowed after, unless at the fall of a wicket, and then only if it is not wasting time. No practice is allowed at any time on the pitch, and none anywhere on the field if it is wasting time.

LAW 16 INTERVALS An interval of 10 minutes is taken between innings, but this may be as part of a meals interval. A tea interval may be taken during a stoppage, for weather or light, or the Captains may agree to forgo the tea interval. The Captains may agree to a drinks interval (or forgo it) of not longer than 5 minutes. If a wicket falls within 5 minutes of drinks they should be taken immediately.

LAW 17 CESSATION OF PLAY The bowling end umpire calls "Time" at the cessation of play, before intervals or interruptions and at the end of play and removes the balls. No appeals are valid after "Time" called even if balls are not removed.

LAW 18 SCORING The score shall be reckoned by runs. Runs are scored when batsmen have crossed and made good their ground from end to end, or a boundary is scored, or penalty runs awarded.

If either batsman fails to make good his ground when turning for a further run the umpire shall call and signal all such short runs when the ball is dead. Although a short run shortens the succeeding one the latter counts if completed. If both batsmen run the same run short only one short run deducted. If the batsman deliberately run short, and the fielders have no chance of dismissing either batsman the ball is called "dead" and any runs attempted, or scored, are disallowed; the batsmen return to their original positions.

If the striker is caught out no runs are scored. If either batsman is run out, all completed runs count and only the attempted run discounted, but if the injured striker is run out, no runs count. If batsman is out obstructing the field all completed runs count, but if out obstructing a catch no runs allowed and the striker is out even if obstruction caused by non-striker.

Boundaries are scored, usually 4 and 6 as previously agreed. Once crossed batsmen do not return to their original ends unless a boundary is scored, disallowance of runs, or the injured batsman is run out.

If either batsman fails to make good his ground when turning for a further run the umpire shall call and signal all such short runs when the ball is dead. Although a short run shortens the succeeding one the latter counts if completed. If both batsmen run the same run short only one short run deducted. If the batsman deliberately run short, and the fielders have no chance of dismissing either batsman the ball is called "dead" and any runs attempted, or scored, are disallowed; the batsmen return to their original positions.

1 penalty run is scored for a wide or no ball if further runs are not scored, 6 runs for a lost ball, and 5 runs added to any scored runs for illegal fielding.

LAW 19 BOUNDARIES Before the toss the umpires and captains shall agree on the boundary (where possible it should be marked) and agree on the runs for boundaries, usually 4 and 6. An obstruction or person inside the boundary are not boundaries unless agreed before the toss. Sight screens partly or completely inside boundary shall count as the boundary.

Four runs are allowed if the ball goes over the boundary, strikes, even when full pitch, or passes under a sight screen partially inside boundary. Six runs are scored if ball pitches over or clear of the boundary line even if it was previously touched, or carried over by a fielder. Six runs scored if ball completely clears screen partially inside boundary.

A boundary counts if a fielder with ball in hand touches or grounds any part of his person on or over the boundary line, but he may lean on or over a boundary fence to prevent a boundary or to make a catch.

If more runs are completed than the boundary allowance, at the instant the ball reaches the boundary, they shall count. If the boundary results from an overthrow or a fielder's wilful act any runs already completed plus the boundary are added to the score plus the run in progress, if the batsman had crossed at the instant of the throw or act.

The Boundary is the inside edge of any line marking it.

LAW 20 LOST BALL Six runs are added to the score if a fielder cannot find or recover a ball in play when he calls "Lost Ball". If the batsmen have completed more than 6 runs those runs shall count. Any runs scored are added to the Striker's score if he hit the ball otherwise they are counted as the appropriate extras.

Batsmen go to wickets nearest them at the instant of the call.

LAW 21 THE RESULT A match shall be lost by a side who during the match refuses to play or concedes defeat.

If both batsmen at the wicket or the fielding side leave the field at any time without the umpire's consent this constitutes a refusal to play and on appeal the umpires shall award the match to the team that remains.

If the side batting second scores more runs than the side batting first, they shall win, but if they are all out for a total less than the side batting first the first side wins, but if the second side are all out for the same total then the result shall be a tie.

If the side batting second are not all out when time is reached, and have scored the same or fewer runs than the team batting first the match is drawn for the prevailing League Rule applies.

The umpires are responsible for the correctness of the scores. If after leaving the field in the belief the match was concluded the scores were found to be incorrect they will inform the captains, and if time allows play will be resumed. If time has not been reached the umpires shall notify the captains of the corrections to the scores and the captains shall accept the result so arrived at.

LAW 22 THE OVER The ball shall be bowled from each wicket alternately in overs consisting of 6 or 8 balls according to agreement before start, and when the number of fair balls so bowled, or the ball becoming dead, over is called. A wide or no ball shall not count as a fair ball.

If an umpire miscounts the number of balls the over shall stand. A bowler may change ends as often as he likes providing he does not bowl two consecutive overs. A bowler is to finish the over in progress, in the case of interruption, or if incapacitated another bowler to complete it.

LAW 23 DEAD BALL The ball becomes dead when it is finally settled in the hands of the Stumper or Bowler; when it reaches the boundary; a batsman is out; lodging in clothing of an umpire or batsman (including his equipment); in a fielder's protective helmet; on lost ball or illegal fielding and when time or over is called. An umpire calls dead ball for: unfair play, serious injury to a player or umpire; when satisfied the striker is not ready; if the bowler accidentally drops ball before delivery or it does not leave his hand; when a ball falls from striker's wicket before he receives delivery, if the umpires confer and when disallowing leg byes. The ball ceases to be dead when the bowler starts his run up or bowling action.

The ball is not dead when it strikes an umpire (unless lodges in his clothing), when the wicket is broken (unless a batsman is out), on an unsuccessful appeal or when a wide or no ball is called. If dead ball is called before striker actually receives a delivery then another ball is bowled.

LAW 24 NO BALL If the bowler fails to notify the umpire of his mode of delivery, or changes his mode of delivery no ball is called. If either umpire is not satisfied the ball is delivered fairly, no ball called. A ball shall be deemed thrown if, whether partial or complete, the bowling arm straightens during the delivery swing. It is a no ball if the back foot touches or breaks any part of the return creases, or if no part of the front foot is behind the popping crease whether grounded or raised in the delivery stride. If ball is thrown at striker's wicket in attempt to run him out, if any part of wicket
